

Who's Got the Wheel?

Lillian and Phyllis were driving to meet their friends for lunch at the Golden Pear. They were in Lillian's 1986 Buick LeSabre headed across town on Maple.

As they crossed State Street the car bounced violently through a low spot in the intersection and a car honked loudly as they narrowly missed a collision.

Phyllis said, "That was close, Lillian. Maybe we should slow down a bit. We've got plenty of time to get to the restaurant. By the way, you should have at least slowed down at the stop sign back there when we crossed State Street.

Lillian replied, "There was a stop sign back there? I didn't see it. Besides, why are you telling me? I thought you were driving."
